

Vranas Properties Adds 3!

Vranas Properties continues to grow with the addition of Erini Balanis, Aaron Bluestone, & Michelle Tolbert!

Aaron joins Vranas Properties having spent years as a Financial Advisor and later as a Commercial Real Estate Analyst. As such, he brings both his passion for real estate and his dedication to client service to his business. Aaron and Paul Vranas met at DePaul University Graduate School of Business in 2006 and worked together on the board of the MBA Association. Aaron chose to join Vranas Properties because as he puts it “Paul Vranas is one of very few Real Estate Brokers who have managed to build a business that is almost exclusively driven by client referrals after only six years in the business.”

Originally from the San Francisco Bay Area, Aaron has called Chicago his home for the past three years and continues to enjoy the seemingly endless experiences and activities that the city has to offer. His greatest interests include; travel, architectural design, foreign Affairs, comedic and dramatic theatre, all sorts of music from baroque to blues, economic policy, various fraternal and charitable organizations and, of course, friends and family.

Aaron holds a B.S. in Economics and Psychology from the University of Wisconsin – Madison and an MBA in Finance from DePaul University.

Michelle Tolbert received her undergraduate education at the University of Florida, graduating cum laude with a Bachelors of Arts in Criminology. She attended the University of Miami School of Law for one year before deciding to move to our lovely Chicago. She has been part of the Vranas Properties team since January of this year and loves it. “We really are a team in every sense of the word.”

Erini Balanis started off in real estate working in both property management and brokerage services for Trammell Crow Company in Arizona. Erini moved to Chicago in 2004 and obtained her Illinois real estate license. Erini then started her career in residential real estate with J.A.M. Realty & Consultants. Erini joined Vranas Properties in January 2008 and is looking forward to a new stepping stone in her real estate career.

Do you know a good candidate to join the Vranas Properties Residential Real Estate Team? Call Paul at 312.255.0505 or paul@vranasproperties.com

Paul Vranas
Vranas Properties
1150 N. State St. #302
Chicago, IL 60610

www.vranasproperties.com